5. LAE History/Knowledge – National Website <http://www.acjalae.org/>

Lambda Alpha Epsilon (LAE) is the fraternal name for the American Criminal Justice Association, a national association comprised of 271 active subordinate chapters located throughout the United States. Most of them are located in colleges and universities that offer criminal justice programs of study, including Johnson County Community College's Zeta Rho Omega chapter.

The objectives of the association are to improve criminal justice learning through educational activities; foster professionalism in law enforcement personnel and agencies; promote academic and public awareness of criminal justice issues; and encourage high standards of ethical conduct and professional training within the criminal justice field.
